Democrats Likely To Control Both Senate, House of Reps.

The Democrats appear certain to control the United States Senate as well as the House of Representatives.

Only a Republican victory in a re-election to Sen. Henry of a surprise upset in Montana could save the Senate for the Republicans.

The Democrats forged into the lead for control of the Senate on a late surge of underdog Pat McClellan in Montana, McManis, proponent of a local in the P-O-P-I, Populists Union, defeated voters, Republicans Senator Homer Ferguson after tearing him all night.

This gave the Democrats 48 Senators elected and one more than the Republicans. That they can organize the Senate.

One of the main results will be that Sen. Senator Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin from the chairmanship of his permanent investigating committee.

The Democrats have clinched control of the United States House of Representatives.

It takes 218 votes to control the House, and the latest figures show the Democrats have elected 228 representatives. They are leading in other races, and it appears the Democrats will control the House by about 115 seats.

Unofficial returns indicate the new House will consist of about 230 Democrats to about 220 Republicans.

The Democrats have clinched 184 seats. —BUP

Singer Is Acclaimed At Lindsay

A well-timed Tuesday evening concert resulted in a triumph for Lindsay's Mary Maghey and her accompanist John McKinnon.

Mr. Maghey, whose concert was presented by the Rotary Club, was widely known in Lindsay, and his performance drew a large number of favorable comments. Typical of these were: "A delightful evening" and "A very fine performance on the Academy Theatre stage."

"The recital had evening range from vocal competitions by Handel, Puccini and to the more dramatic songs of Frank Youmans and Romberg.

Several in the audience expressed their appreciation for the concert, as he seemed to feel the music was a substitute for therapy, and his delicate touch and phrasing helped Mr. Maghey in his musical career.

Many people commented that the recital was a very successful one for being Mr. Maghey back in Lindsay.

Our Own and Other Opinion

ALAS - OR SANTA CLAUS!

Every year, at about this time, we begin to feel the pangs of St. Nicholas' absence. He is a figure who Saint Nicholas was a legendary figure, wrapped in dignity and held in awe by children. He was an excellent symbol of the parental love which manifests itself in the Christmas season. The absence of this figure means an inconsiderable manifestation in itself of the greater love which lies at the heart of Christmas. But it seems to us that all kinds of people are competing to see how low they can bring Santa Claus.

The other day, for instance, we saw an advertisement in an American magazine of a large, effigy of Santa Claus being burned in the streets of a Christmas town. Concealed in the effigy was a musical box, which would play two or three carols. There is nothing especially reprehensible about such a figure, though we do think that we would care to see one, for our appetite for musical boxes is poor. But it was the method of winding up the musical box which made use grive.

It was wound by twisting Santa's nose! The effigy had a large bulbous nose like a ping-pong ball, and by twisting it round and round the music was screwed into action.

There is a child going to reverence Santa Claus, or what he symbolizes, if he is invited to twist Santa's nose in order to make tinkling music come out of his head? Would himing him up and then twisted into the small of his back would be a logical method of attending to his clockwork, but twisting his nose —! No, no; the imagination will not encompass such an enormity.

There have been legends of the Santa Claus legend will not survive the end of this century, unless the Society for the Restoration of the Dignity of the St. Nicholas Legend gets to work.

BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

Few advantages of more permanent value could be given a child than a book. It is a portable treasure, a source of knowledge, a guide to the great world about him, but, better still, they create a habit which will bring him countless hours of pleasure, instruction and inspiration throughout the rest of his life.

To acquaint parents, as well as the friends and relations of younger generation, with the great resources of children's reading, Young Canada's Book Week has been held across the country. It is a valuable opportunity to find out what varied fare is now available. An early experience of the possession of books is almost as important as the reading of them.

Of course, as with other "weekends" which attract public interest from time to time, the whole purpose would be lost if the seven days exhausted attention to the subject. Toronto people are very fortunate in having at their service one of the best children's library systems in the world. At numerous branches supplemented by school libraries, there are now available thousands of volumes, hundreds of books chosen with great care are waiting the year round to be borrowed by the young people. Thousands of children already have the library habit, and are accumulating a treasure of knowledge.

These are the years which count in later life. As the child is bent, so the tree is inclined. Adorned likened the love of reading in childhood to the warming sun and germinating rains of spring. It makes the mind grow and prepares the whole personality for maturity. It quickens the imagination and provides experiences which may be recalled during all the ensuing years. Introduces friends who will never part or change. In fact, to wit just as bad to starve the mind of a child as to starve his body. Some would say worse.

AVERAGE ANNUAL FOOD BILL

The average Canadian eats about $360 worth of food a year. That is about three tons of vitamins, proteins and calories. These figures come from a Dominion Bureau of Statistics survey of families with an average income of $12,550.

The amount the average family of four spends on food is about the average item in the household budget. The average housewife, in the course of a year, goes shopping for groceries one hundred times and consumes about one thousand pounds of food.

Purchases for the family run about $70 pounds of potatoes, 120 pounds of butter and, or margarine; 236 pounds of beef, 40 pounds of pork, 90 pounds of ham, 30 pounds of sausage, 100 pounds of bacon, 25 pounds of veal or hologna, 36 pounds of veal and eight pounds of lamb and mutton. Other staple foods brought would about 116 pounds of sugar, 220 pounds of eggs and 480 quarts of milk. —TRURO DAILY NEWS.

HOSPITAL CARE

After reading some harsh words by a doctor about the way hospitals were being run, we sought out Dr. G. Harvey Agnew who has just been elected President of the Ontario Hospital Association. He is also head of the Department of Hospital Administration at the University of Toronto. He is a general practitioner, a member of Hospital Consultants, past president of the American Hospital Association and a former secretary of the Canadian Hospital Council.

"Where a hospital spends a great deal of money on non-essentials—buildings and equipment not really necessary for the care of the sick?" "I don't think so," Dr. Agnew said. "Research today in some of the most advanced hospitals is being carried out in the basement. It is done best in a large centre. But more and more, what we might call the community hospital is getting better equipped than its staff. These hospitals are developing good laboratories and X-ray departments and are installing quite elaborate equipment. Today many procedures are being carried out in fairly small hospitals which a generation ago would have been done only in a few years ago—would have been considered as only possible in a large metropolitan hospital. Major operations, such as high level cancer surgery, general surgery, a process of tuberculosis of the kidney, an extremely complicated procedure, are now being performed as a matter of course in small community hospitals. Now, too, medical staffs in the small hospitals are organized for the most effective teamwork, really giving a scientific service to their communities."

Hospitals apparently have no difficulty "from an accounting point of view" in handling patients charged according to a variety of health insurance schemes. Would a uniform, compulsory system be better? "I'm for the voluntary system of hospitals as we know them today," Dr. Douglas Macdonald, executive director of the Canadian Hospital Association, told us. "I believe it is very important that the voluntary system of hospitals as we know them be perpetuated. This voluntary system has been so permanently assured by the preparation of hospital care is largely left to the independent prepaid plans. I think we've demonstrated in Ontario that the voluntary system is the best. I think in mind the high percentage of the population now covered. There is a field, however, for government co-operation with certain groups, such as indigents, Veterans Affairs and the chronically ill. I think possibly the ideal would be a voluntary system of preparation for the bulk of the population and government co-operation for special groups."

THE ASPIRIN-EATERS

During the last twelve months we have taken eight aspirin tablets. We can be accurate about this figure because we bought a box of a certain brand of aspirin tablets and we still have four of them. We do not know precisely how much those eight aspirin tablets weighed, but we are certain it was not less than 100 pounds.

We record these not very interesting facts because we have just read that 13,713,000 pounds of aspirin was manufactured and consumed in the U.S.A. during 1953. Some of our people are taking a lot more aspirin than we are.

Aspirin is pretty harmless, as drugs go. Still, we have never taken it so too freely, even for a toothache or a cold. And as we've learned the nineteenth century always found that a headache goes away after a while, without aspirin. We have never overcome a feeling, acquired in childhood, that the taking of any sort of medicine is a solemn business. Fraught with the danger. Some of our older relatives referred to the taking of even an aspirin as "drugging."

There are all this 13,713,000 pounds of aspirin go?

Are there monumental headaches below the border, which require to be stoked with hundredous doses of aspirin? Are there people who take aspirin with the recklessness which characterized the nineteenth century takers of laudanum? Does aspirin, consumed in great quantities, bring blissful dreams, in which the dead are hushed, surrounded by beautiful creatures of the harem? This is not to say that aspirin is a necessary part of our life. —PETERBURGH EXAMINER.

WHAT A SUGGESTION!

The prisoner faced the magistrate in Windsor on a charge of stealing a car. Maggipies. The trial was given a sentence of two months for the theft, which was quite right and proper. But the man, some joker asked the Crown Attorney, Bruce J. Macdonald, whether an additional charge would be made of the prisoner—that of possessing a dangerous weapon. One can imagine the withering reply which brother Macdonald would have given. —TRURO DAILY NEWS.

A MAGNIFIC SECRE

During the war some odd things happened to men's clothes. They lost the cuffs off their trousers, and the pleats from their waists. They also lost their waistcoats.

There are always a few people who are driven to make a virtue of necessity, and they loudly asserted that the waistcoat would never return; it was, they said a sturdy, binding, needless garment.

But what has happened? The waistcoat is back again. Indeed, it has taken a new lease on life, and factory waistcoats of great variety are to be seen everywhere. The plain fact is, a man needs a waistcoat. There, otherwise, is he, carries his pen, his pencil, his engagement book, perhaps a pocket watch, and the keys of his "car." It is a good saying that "he put these things in the inside pocket of his jacket; he needs that for his wallet and his collection of old letters." If he is a doctor, he needs a waistcoat to put the above mentioned items, his clinical thermometer. If he is an insurance man or a bond salesman, he carries in his waistcoat a mysterious little tin of stock certificates which he must take with him to his business. If he is a hypocrite, he needs at least one waistcoat pocket for his pills.

The truth is that the waistcoat still has the junk in it that a woman carries in her handbag, and that a waistcoat, with all its freight on board, weighs about nine pounds. When a man is under fire about the overloading of her handbag, she always remembers this fact, which has for so long been a well-guarded masculine secret. —PETERBURGH EXAMINER.

LEVEL-HEADED IRISH

Irishmen are people who imagine themselves to be patriots and who operate under the colours of the so-called Irish Republican Army has again drawn attention to the existence of the IRA. The first time the Irish Republican Army was outlawed, not only in Northern Ireland, where its latest degradation has occurred, but also in the Republic of Ireland.

Rank upon rank of this kind may suit the book of those who, through unguided prejudice or misconception, think of the Irish as irresponsible hooligans, ever ready to fight at the drop of a hat, with or, preferably, without reason. They may suit the part of the stage comic with his blackhorn shillabeg (they cut them in Ireland, North or South, strictly for the tourist trade), but they do not reflect the intelligent Irishman's approach to a difficult situation.

A HUGE WOODEN FRAMEWORK, around which interlocking steel pilings are placed and driven into the river bottom, is handled by a tug, the Grebe, of St. Catharines, as construction of a dam and powerhouse at Cornwall, Ont. goes on. The work is part of the $800,000-000 St. Lawrence Power Project.

More Were Working More Hunting Jobs, Mixed-up Month

October was a mixed month as far as employment was concerned. According to the Labour Department and the Bureau of Statistics more Canadians were working last month than in same month a year ago—but there were also more hunters for jobs.

The two agencies issued their joint report on the employment situation and disclosed it was the first month of the year in which there had been a jump in employment over 1955 levels.

The bureau listed 179 thousand persons—a little more than three per cent of the total labour force—was out of work in October.

And the Labour Department says there were more than 800 thousand job applications on file in the National Employment Service.

However, neither figure is guaranteed by government economists as an accurate reflection of the amount of unemployment. The true figure is believed to be somewhere between—817.

Question: The telegraphers only represent 3,000 of the 15,000 citizens in Lindsay. Where do the others come in? Why should the taxpayers be asked to bear all the burden?

Answer: They aren't. The telegraph will pay their share, as in any business the cost of operating has to come out of revenue, so, likewise, the telegraph will have to bear a share in the increased taxes paid by the property owner.

Mr. Gregory told of a large local smallwares business which had received applications already from Head Office, indicating that it is prepared to assume increase of taxation.

Question: Why not a general all-population Hospital Tax?

Answer: We have thought of that, and have found that the cost of organizing and collecting the money would be in excess of the amount collected.

Mr. Gregory related the story that there will be six operating clinics in the proposed expanded hospital. There will be three only, he said, —two major, one minor.

The emergency and a second special one in basement will not be complete, but will be equipped only to take care of emergency situations, sutures, etc.

He said that at this cost, this week, a child in the ward developed bold. This, he said, was a type of where to put the child and isolate room was rigged up hurriedly in a building, which pointed out the problem.

yet remains to be collected and turned in to the office or banks and we will once again be "over the top."

Will anyone who for any reason has been missed in the canvass or have failed to contribute please make your contribution NOW at our office in the Court House or at the Chamber of Commerce office or at any of the banks or Trust company.

Postopol (PMS)—The turkey supper sponsored by the W. A. of Postopol United Church was a wonderful success financially and socially. Long tables were set up in the basement, walls of white curtains and ferns adorned each table.

Platters of turkey and hot vegetables, also placed on each table, were quickly emptied by hungry folk who had come from far and near and it kept waiting busy preparing for a second helping. All kinds of pies, jellies, cake, tea, hot cocoa, etc. were served also.

When supper was all over, all adjourned to the Orange Hall where a play entitled "Too Many Rehearsals" was put on by some of the young people from Bethany.

It was very humorous. There were some musical selections also.

Over 500 suppers were served including those handed in drivers' of trucks passing by loaded with Christmas trees.

Cambray Cards Are Presented With Trophy

Estimated $1,100 Damage In Lindsay House Fire, Started In Stovepipes

Cambray (PSN) — The Cambray family of the Victoria Independent Baseball League enjoyed a turkey dinner accompanied by their wives, sweethearts and all friends interested in the home town. The banquet was organized by the W. J. McNair Institute.

Chairman of the evening was Mr. Wilford Worsley, Deputy Mayor for Lindsay. Mr. Worsley expressed thanks on behalf of his wife and himself to the basketball boys for the invitation to attend this festive occasion, and sincerely congratulated the boys on their success during the past summer. He also congratulated them for the honorable and clean way they conducted their sports. Mr. Worsley explained to the young people they should be proud of their religious heritage and had the privilege of going to church and were not forced to go. He urged each one to use that privilege and make their church serve a realer bible. Mr. Worsley also advised the audience that the basketball of Cambray would be played next winter if possible. The next speaker was Rev. F. J. Little who expressed his hope for being asked to be the dinner. Rev. Little made the statement he had never seen electric and opportunism than the boys displayed during the series.

Mr. Cecil Smith, Ottawa, after a humorous address, presented the Cambray Cardinals with the trophy they had won during the series of games in the Victoria Independent League played over the summer period and congratulated the boys most sincerely. He spoke of the times when he played baseball in the community. The trophy was presented to Mr. Stuart McKinnon who thanked Mr. Smith on behalf of the Cardinals.

The guest speaker, Mr. Wm. Cummins, of Lindsay was introduced by the chairman. Mr. Cummins is interested in sports, is a member of the Children's Aid and is a baseball umpire. A stip song "Take Me Out To The Ball Game" was followed by a ten question quiz for the boys, pertaining to baseball. This was won by Mr. Jon Ketchum. Mr. Cummins gave a most inspiring address on rules, regulations and good sportsmanship to be applied to any baseball team. The speaker was enjoyed by all.

Extensive damage has been done to a Lindsay home.

Lindsay's Fire Department was called out Monday a.m. when fire struck at the home of Mr. Bruce Campbell, 32 Leith St.

The fire was attributed to overflowing stovepipes coming from a coal stove in the kitchen at the rear of the small semi-detached dwelling, and had spread up the wall and into the attic, which contained the sleeping quarters.

It is believed that it had not been for the prompt arrival and efficient work of the Fire Department, the home, would have been completely destroyed in a very few hours.

According to Fire Chief Willie Dennis, the building amounted to approximately 700 sq. ft. and contents valued at $1,100.

Lindsay's Chief Magistrate, Mayr J. McKinnon, was one of the first to arrive at the scene of the fire, and commented on the difficulty involving fire services to reach this part of the town, quickly.

Another highlight of the evening was impromptu speeches from the boys who played ball here some time ago. These were Messrs. Dave Spence and Howard Tambo, who didn't speak and his son Carl spoke for his father. Mr. Bert Spence thanked the guest speaker, Chairman, Mr. Cecil Smith and the Wm. McNair Institute for the sumptuous dinner.

Mr. A. Jackell, Penfold Falls, spoke a few words of praise for the Cardinals. Mr. Earl Van Dyke spoke of the boys, namely, Carl Tambo, Bert Spence, Reginald Jewell, Murray Spence, Joe Ketchum, Joe Tambo, Wayne Jewell, Earl Spence, Jack London, Clark Palmer, Billy Tambo, Stuart Hicks and Bert Tambo, who was unable to be present.

Manager Mr. Jack London expressed his thanks to the team for their good sport and sportsmanship. The evening was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem with Mrs. Murray McKinnon at the piano.

Young Lindsay Woman Dies Unexpectedly, Inquest Seen Possible

No Truth Chief Says

"There is absolutely no truth in the claims being made by radio stations and wire services that I made a statement as to the possible cause of death of Mrs. Howard J. O'Neill," stated Crown Attorney James W. Jordan today.

It was reported that Mrs. O'Neill, wife of Howard J. (Barney) O'Neill, died unexpectedly at home Sunday afternoon after she had gone for her upstairs apartment to rest. It is reported that Mr. O'Neill was an employee of his store. Ronald Gaultier looked in at Mrs. O'Neill and found that she appeared to be dying.

The Chief stated that representatives of other news outlets have grossly misquoted him, and had relayed this incorrect news to the national wire services. This says the Chief, will cause great embarrassment to all concerned.

All officers of the Lindsay Police Department have been instructed to be as accurate when questioned on the matter of the tragic death, as it appears that "some sources look for the sensational, when there are facts."

Shoulders Soft, Cars Ditched

OPP authorities report two minor accidents in the district over the weekend.

On Saturday evening, about 8.30 p.m. two cars went out of control on No. 7 highway at Chandler's Service Station, after striking the soft shoulders of the road.

They were being driven by James Long, head of Birmingham and Donald Edwards also of Birmingham.

After careening off the road into the ditch, the occupants of the two cars were reported to have considered themselves fortunate to have survived any damage to the cars.

Another accident took place on No. 36 highway about three miles north of Dundurn on Sunday afternoon, when a car being driven by "Present indications are that an inquest will be held into the death of Mrs. Thekla 'Pat' O'Neill, but this cannot be confirmed until the official report and analysis is released from the pathologist in Toronto," stated Crown Attorney James W. Jordan today.

It was reported that Mrs. O'Neill, wife of Howard J. (Barney) O'Neill, died unexpectedly at home Sunday afternoon after she had gone for her upstairs apartment to rest. It is reported that Mr. O'Neill was an employee of his store. Ronald Gaultier looked in at Mrs. O'Neill and found that she appeared to be dying.

According to sources close to the family, several attempts were made at once to locate the services of a doctor but all are reported to have been unsuccessful. These same sources claim Mr. O'Neill then contacted the hospital who informed him that Dr. T. W. L. Broadfoot was the physician on call for that Sunday. It is reported that Dr. Broadfoot refused the case to Coroner Dr. M. E. Gorman, who upon examination called for an autopsy.

Mr. O'Neill's brother told "The Post" that it took over an hour to reach a doctor.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. H. O. Metcalfe, and after examination of the results of this autopsy, he called in the Provincial Pathologist, Dr. Whitnield of Peterborough. It was then decided to have an autopsy made by Dr. Joseph Rogers, the Chief Coroner for the province of Ontario in Toronto.

Dr. Gorman informed the Chief of Police John Hunter of the situation, which is routine in the case of death which is suspected to be from other than natural causes.

Mrs. O'Neill was 39 years old and was the only child of her body is resting at Burrows Funeral Home on Mill St. The funeral took place Wednesday at 2 p.m. from Cambridge Street United Church.

Mr. R. Metcalfe of Toronto has a list of doctors up in the ditch since going out of the OPP report that about $500.00 damage, when a car being driven by

Visit To England Described By Mrs. C. Palmer

Little Britain (PNS) — The November meeting of the Little Britain United Church W. A. was held in its usual session of the church with a good attendance. Mrs. Stuart Chidley presided and opened the meeting with thoughts on Remembrance Day. "We Pray For Peace" she said "We hope for peace but we do not work for peace!" If we wish the Golden Rule, wars would be no more.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and adopted and the treasurer's report showed the £100.00 supply to have been in actual excess. The correspondence of the letters of thanks were read and four motions dealt with, namely:

That if borrowed diaries are broken they must be replaced; That the W. A. send the customary letter to the members of the Dominion Council; to donate $125.00 to the Church Board; that letters of appreciation be sent to the village business men for their generosity in donations with work done at the church; to write the Dominion Council to sponsor a programme.

Mrs. Palmer and Mrs. Lawrence Beattie volunteered to look after the Christmas cheer party.

The worship logo was "Spiritual Warfare" led by Mrs. R. A. Woodville. A hymn and the Scripture Reading by Mrs. Gervill preceded Mrs. Rodman's paper, "Let us" she said, "let our usual Christmas preparations end only that we may be ready to receive again the real Christmas message."

Mrs. G. Chidley led in prayer after which Mrs. Beattie sang "When The Lord of Love Was Born." The use of a hymn concluded the worship period.

Mrs. C. Palmer took charge of the programme the last day of her trip and her visit with her relatives and their stay in England there. She stated in England important food are not rationed, and she thought the English towns were wonderful.

FARM FORUM

Blackstock (PNS) — Blackstock Farm began the sessions for another term at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ramer with a very good attendance.

The general subject for discussion was a talk at the Farm Forum by its accomplishments and its leadership for the future.

Members felt that a better informed community was one of its important strong points and that it has been a great educational unit providing instruction in how to conduct meetings, debates, discussions, etc.

Some projects initiated by the Farm Forum include the immunization of school children against many diseases, the beginning of the Health Trust, 10 years ago in 1944, the Voluntary Civilized Year, vaccination scheme which over a 30-year period vaccinated over 700 calves, car insurance and medical co-ventures.

A lovely lunch was served by the hostess.

Junior Farmers Win Honour At Winter Fair

Blackstock (PNS) — The Durham County Junior Farmers set a new record for District 10 at the Royal Winter Fair last week when they won the Jeffrey Bull Memorial Trophy for the third straight year in Inter-County livestock judging competition.

Competing against teams from all other counties in Ontario were Durham teams of Keith VanCamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry VanCamp, Blackstock, John Oden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Oden, Newcastle, and Richard VanCamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanford VanCamp, of Blackstock, composed of a total 2,088 points out of a possible 3,000 to capture the trophy for the third year in succession.

In addition to being a member of the team winning the grand championship trophy, Keith VanCamp won the Stoneyhew Trophy for having the highest number of points of all competitors with 80 out of 1,000. The same 16-year-old youth won a gold medal as the top scorer in the dairy cattle class.

The Durham team also won the Stoneyhew Trophy for dairy cattle judging. The trophy for the best and beautiful judging went to Lambton County and for ewine judging to North Bruce.

Brown, of Newcastle, represented Ontario in the Inter-County livestock judging competition against teams from all other counties in Ontario. The team did not win this grain judging event, and scores in the competition had not been released by Wednesday, so that it is not known where they stood.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Brooks earned the right to represent Ontario in the National grain competition by winning grain class projects at the provincial L-1 Inter-Club competition held at O.A.C. on October 22.

The Durham team at the Royal Winter Fair was coached by Mr. Ed Sumner, Agricultural Representative for Durham County, and his assistant, Jay Brown. And it is a tribute to their fine work that the teams made such a remarkable showing in the events.
